Opening Prayer:

Lord God, we come before You in awe and wonder for who You are. We kneel before You and worship You as the most precious and important person in our lives. We remember that no thing and no person we desire can compare with You. We adore you. Amen

Reading of the week: John 12:1-8

Verse of the week: Matthew 10:8b

Freely you have received, freely give.

Thought for the day: Moira Goddard

The account of Jesus' anointing at Bethany where he was an honoured guest invites us to think about how we can honour Jesus. Martha was there doing what she did best. Martha served! Lazarus was there very much alive, testimony to the power of Jesus, and at ease in his presence. Mary's extravagant act in anointing Jesus with precious perfume speaks of humility, devotion and worship. Mary gave freely not half-heartedly. Jesus defended Mary's action which he said pointed to his death. Jesus the one who freely gave his life for us calls us to freely give in response to his love.

A new role for the Archdeacon of Boston

After nearly twelve years serving and ministering alongside clergy, congregations and communities in the Diocese of Lincoln, the Archdeacon of Boston, Justine Allain Chapman, will be taking up a new role as Director of Pastoral Studies and Tutor in Practical Theology for the Eastern Region Ministry Course (ERMC) later this year.

The Eastern Region Ministry Course trains candidates for public ministry in the Church of England, both lay and ordained, as well as those engaged in different forms of ministry in the wider Church. Based in Cambridge, the ERMC welcomes a variety of students, including many from the East of England and from continental Europe. Justine begins her new role as Director of Pastoral Studies and Tutor on the 11th August 2025. Justine is looking forward to her upcoming Archdeaconry Visitation services in the summer, which will be opportunities for all of us to express our thanks and say our farewells.

In the coming months, we invite you to pray for God's blessing during this time of transition, on:

- Archdeacon Justine, her husband Thomas and their family;
- the staff and students of the Eastern Region Ministry Course;
- the Bishops and Archdeacons;
- the Diocesan Board of Education;
- the people, ministers and communities in the Archdeaconry of Boston.
