Readings of the week: Luke 8:26-39, Galatians 3:23-29
Verse of the week: Luke 8:35
The people found the man from whom the demons had gone, sitting at the feet of Jesus, clothed and in his right mind; and they were afraid.
Thought for the Day: Dave Parkinson
In one of his discourses Jesus said to his listeners, "You will know the truth and the truth will make you free." Those who place their trust in him, who are united with him, find freedom. In our Galatians reading (Galatians 3: 23-29) Paul goes to great lengths to make it very clear that no one can be made right with God by trying to keep the law handed down from Mount Sinai. It can't be done. But Christ brings freedom from that failure because he is the true way to God the Father. In our Gospel reading (Luke 8: 26-39) Luke is describing the fear of the demon possessed man, and the fear of the herdsman and townsfolk who lived in the area. Jesus brings freedom into this situation.

Weekly Update

There is a freedom for the Gerasene demoniac. He sits at the feet of Jesus, clothed and in his right mind. But freedom can cut two ways. Instead of being drawn to faith the townsfolk and herdsmen allow fear to drive them away from God. They ask Jesus to leave. Which way will we choose?

A news update from John Lisle

So grateful, humbled and thrilled to announce that at the end of June I'll be undertaking my curacy at St Luke's Church, Blackburn in the diocese of Blackburn! We're so excited for all we will learn and for all God has ahead as we play our part in what he is doing. 😊. I am beyond grateful for the love, prayers, discipleship and support of all of you over the years. Trinity has been a family from the moment we arrived, and you have played such a massive role in steering me into God's calling on my/our lives. We continue to feel held by your prayers day by day. Thank you.

Biggest thanks goes to The Lord Jesus who has guided us on every step of the journey thus far, and we know he has already gone ahead of us into what is to come. It is all by his Grace. Please pray for Tiria, Reuben and myself as this exciting chapter begins! Hebrews 12:1-3.

Thank you again wonderful people. Lots of love, The Lises ❤️
